ABOUT

I am a recent graduate with a Master's degree in Digital Effects from Bournemouth University, equipped with a strong foundation in Visual Effects (VFX) and specialized expertise in various facets of the field, including effects, 3D modeling, texturing, lighting, compositing, and special effects. Throughout my academic journey, I have cultivated the ability to seamlessly integrate assets across different software platforms and have honed my problem-solving skills. I am proficient in both team-based collaboration and independent work.

I am an ambitious individual looking for opportunities to contribute what I have learned and further develop my skills in the industry.
